What is Vocational Rehabilitation?

Maine Department of Labor’s Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) works with individuals who have disabilities to achieve successful employment and meet your workforce needs.

The program connects you with qualified individuals and support services in your area as well as resources that are available on a national basis.

The One-Stop Approach

VR is a one-stop approach to serving a variety of public and private sector businesses throughout the state of Maine. It is supported by specially trained statewide staff in coordination with local community partners. The program is designed to train and employ the talents of people with disabilities while meeting the employment needs of business.

Pre-employment services
We can connect you with future employees through internships, mentoring opportunities and training that is customized to your needs or delivered on-the-job.

Recruitment and referral
VR staff can help recruit and match you with qualified applicants.

Staff training
We can provide staff training on disability awareness, the Americans with Disabilities Act and other employment laws as well as topics related to disabilities and assistive technology in the workplace.

Diversity
We assist with program strategies that support the inclusion of people with disabilities as customers and employees.

Retention
VR provides programs to support employees who develop or acquire a disability.

Financial supports
We have all of the latest information about accessing available tax credits and/or deductions for hiring or accommodating people with disabilities.

No Cost Business Services
